

What pastors whom we have worked with are Saying about Grace that Reigns from 2015 - 2018

" I received numerous expressions of appreciation for the presentations that were given by Bishop Gilmore and Jacqueline Loh. The Viewpoint that Ms. Loh brings as a lay woman with her profound love, respect and concern for men who serve the people of God as priests, provides priests with the opportunity and challenge to reflect on their ministry..."

"I believe that the model of a bishop and lay woman working collaboratively for the enrichment of parish life provides an example that can challenge how ministry in parishes should be exercised."

Sincerely,
+ Thomas Olmsted. Bishop of Phoenix

" Jacqueline and Bishop Gilmore demonstrated great sensitivity toward the aging population of my parish and helped them grasp that no one is too old for the missionary impetus inherit to our baptism. Jacqueline's gifts of healing are real and brought much consolation to the faithful of my parish. God has given this duo particular charisms that will find resonance among those who know charisms are real. "

Fr. Larry Merta. Pastor. All Saints Parish. Mesa, Arizona

."....practically everyone in attendance took the opportunity to spend time with Jacqueline in prayer but also spent time with Bishop Gilmore in Confession. This tells me that the reflections given during the Mission struck deep into the hearts of those who were in attendance. Many souls were touched and led closer to Christ! I would recommend Grace that Reigns to other pastors seeking to help lead their congregations to a place of healing and a renewed sense of wonder! "

Rev. Sergio Munez Fita. Pastor. St Anne Roman Catholic Parish. Gilbert, Arizona

" Now, if you, like I, were concerned about the words, " healing" in their promos, don't be concerned! They did, and didn't do, exactly what I asked of them, and they were both Very easy to work with. My parishioners loved it and people are still talking about it a month later. So if you are looking for a good retreat for your parishioners, look no further!.."

Rev. Carson Krittenbrink. Pastor. St. Mary's Parish. Ponca City, Oklahoma

" The varied voices between Jacqueline and Bishop Gilmore offered different views of a particular presentation: an interplay of lay and ordained; woman and man; Canadian and American. I would heartily recommend Grace that Reigns for a parish mission or for a diocesan retreat. .."

Rev. Kenneth S. Van Haverbeke
Director Spiritual Life Center in The Diocese of Wichita, Kansas

We learned how to deal with sin in our lives and to embrace and open ourselves up to the goodness of Christ within us. A goodness that we then pass on to others through our active and concrete ways of loving Christ. The people who attend the Mission said that they had learned a lot to enhance their spiritual lives. Please keep up your good work of making Christ's grace alive in our hearts.

Rev. Thomas Smith. Pastor. St Francis De Sales Parish, Vancouver, B.C. Canada

" The Lord showed me in a very powerful and unexpected way, his immense love for me. He showed me that he was not so interested in what I can or cannot do, but he wanted me to be closer to him and that all my situations in the parish would be taken care of. I would highly recommend Grace that Reigns for any parish looking for education and a deeper understanding of prayer..."

Fr. Donald Bedore. Pastor. Prince of Peace Parish, Great Bend, KS

" This retreat was very good. It engaged the participants immediately and got them thinking about the wonders so often missed in life, the uniqueness of each individual, and the obstacles which can often keep one from having a blessed prayer life. Both of you were good speakers, I would highly recommend them for a retreat during special events focusing on signs from God in healing power and in prayers. "

Fr. Francis Khoi Nguyen, Pastor. St. Helen's Parish, Hugoton, Kansas

GRACE THAT REIGNS

RENEWING YOUR SENSE of WONDER

"Thank you so much for the retreat experience here at St. Catherine Parish. I have known Bishop Gilmore for forty years! I respect him immensely and hold him in very high regard. I believe that his work with Jacqueline Loh will bear much fruit as they travel the country. They are a deeply spiritual team and our parish is very grateful for their time with us. "

Fr. Dan Spexarth, Pastor. St. Catherine of Siena Parish, Wichita, Kansas

" I am truly grateful for the wonderful Advent Retreat you provided us with. The Deep insights given by Bishop Gilmore helped so many of us enter more deeply into the Advent Season and Jacqueline's sincere humble testimonies helped us to better understand the reality of the struggles and challenges we face in our daily prayer lives. I am looking forward to the next opportunity for our community to host Grace that Reigns for a follow up workshop!..."

Deacon Andrew B. Gilliland. Director of Parish Admin. St Anne Catholic Parish, Gilbert, Arizona

" Bishop Gilmore's reflections on the priesthood helped us all enter more fully into renewing our priestly promises at the Chrism Mass. We were also grateful for the perspective of Jacqueline's viewpoint as a lay woman. Her love for the priesthood and humble sincere insights into our ministry were a great encouragement and were edifying. We were blessed to have the both of you during Holy Week..."

Fr. David Sanfilippo. Vicar for Priests. Diocese of Phoenix, Arizona
